Dear Constituents,

Every year, Canadians lose millions of dollars to the activities of scammers who bombard us with online, mail, door-to-door and telephone scams.

My hope is that by sending information out to my constituents, you will be able to stay on top of scams, inform yourself on how to recognize the various types of scams and protect your personal information by visiting the links I provide for you on the back.

Scammers target people of all backgrounds, ages and income levels. Scammers are imaginative and manipulative. They know how to push your buttons to produce the response they want. Below you will find some 'Golden Rules' to remember to help you beat the scammers.

Remember, if you spot a scam, or have been scammed, don't be embarrassed to get help. Please call my office and my staff will be glad to assist you.

Sincerely,

The Golden Rules

- Do not rely on glowing testimonials: find solid evidence of a company's success.
- Do not hand over money or personal information, or sign anything until you have done your homework and checked the credentials of the company that you are dealing with.
- Always get independent advice if an offer involves money, personal information, time or commitment.
- There are no guaranteed get-rich-quick schemes—sometimes the only people that make money are the scammers.
- Log directly on to a website that you are interested in rather than clicking on the link provided in an email.

Information on Job & Employment Scams

Job/employment scams target people looking for a job. They often promise significant income—sometimes they even guarantee it—for little or no effort.

Work-from-home scams are often promoted through spam emails, ads online or in a newspaper. Most of these advertisements are not real job offers. Many of them are fronts for illegal money-laundering activity or pyramid schemes.

A guaranteed employment or income scam claims to guarantee you either a job or a certain level of income. The scammers usually contact you by spam email and the offers often involve the payment of an up-front fee for a “business plan”, certain start-up materials or software.

There are a range of scams promoted as business opportunities. You may be required to make an upfront payment (for something that does not work or is not what you expected) or to recruit other people to the scheme.

PROTECT YOURSELF: There are no shortcuts to wealth—the only people that make money are the scammers. Don't make any decisions without carefully researching the offer. Seek independent advice before making a decision.

ASK YOURSELF: Did I get all the details in writing before paying or signing anything?
